CYCLONIC WINDS CARRY DEATH, DESTRUCTION

SWEEP FROM ST. LOUIS, MO., TO SPRINGFIELD

TOLL BELIEVED SCORE OF LIVES SACRIFICED TO THE ELEMENTS

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—(UP)—Central Illinois today had contributed at least a score of lives and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property to the elements which are terrifying rural districts of the United States.

Cyclonic winds swept a path from the outskirts of St. Louis to Springfield late yesterday. The tornado struck in a dozen places and homes of thousands were destroyed.

Although lack of wire communications have hampered gathering of accurate information, reports here show 23 are dead in the area and it is estimated 100 are injured. Many of them are in Springfield hospitals. Restoration of wire facilities is expected to reveal additional casualties.

Springfield, Carrollton and Lincoln, Ill., were centers of rescue work today. Injured and dead were taken to those places when possible. Many of the homeless are being cared for in those towns also.

Weather observers declared today the Illinois cyclone was a continuation of destructive winds which swept northern Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas a few days ago.

Anna Keller, 25, a school teacher, was killed when the storm flattened her country school building at Centerville. Many of her 32 pupils were injured and some may have been killed.

Two boys, Hobart Baker, 7, and Murray Goodwin, 9, were killed when the school they were attending in Logan county met a similar fate.

Reports of deaths received here from small towns in the gale's path are: Lincoln, 2; Mt. Pulaski, 2; Wrights, 5; Hardin, 1; Woodville, 2; Athens, 1; Kaser, 1; Loomis, 1; Buffalo, 2; Cornland, 2; Chestnut, 2; Carrollton, 2.

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—The element torn Mississippi basin today struggled towards relief for thousands of refugees made homeless by combined cyclones and flood waters. Upwards of 30,000 persons have been forced from their farm homes and at least two score persons killed as result of overflowing rivers and a series of death dealing winds. The property damage has been tremendous.

Rivers through the district today continued at flood stage and several towns were threatened. New Madrid, Mo., is virtually deserted owing to a break in the levee while Beardstown, Ill.—just recovering from disastrous flood waters of last fall—is again threatened.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 20.—Disastrous weather conditions which through tornadoes, flood and lightning have caused over 40 deaths in Oklahoma during April were believed at a lull today.

Casualties in the tornado that swept into Oklahoma from near Archer City, Texas, stood at 11 known dead, approximately 50 injured and more than $500,000 property damage.

In addition, new flood victims in Oklahoma were reported as totalling eight—a white man, three children and four negroes—in south and eastern counties of the state.

Relief work in the Oklahoma-Texas tornado district of the Choctaw county vicinity was well under way today with county seat citizens of both Hugo, Okla., and Paris, Tex., giving direct aid. In that area sixty homes, including about a score in Arthur City, were unofficially reported in ruins.

Two small children of a saw mill family, unidentified, of the Jack Fork mountains, in Pittsburgh county, were drowned when a dry creek bed filled with a wall of water rushing upon their home.

An attempt to cross a swollen creek in northern Craig county on a mule cost the life of Frances Pearson.

A ride into the storm area of southern Choctaw county by William Mayhorn, in an effort to aid stricken friends, cost his life when he drowned in the high waters of Hucsey creek.

BILL CALLS FOR REDUCTION OF THE GOVERNOR'S SALARY

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—A bill calling for reduction of $1,000 in the salary of Governor Christianson was introduced in the senate late Tuesday.

The measure has the approval of the governor. When Senators J. H. Traxler of Le Sueur center and C. J. Putzier of Litchfield asked for an opinion the chief executive said he would sign it should both houses pass the bill.

Governor Christianson's veto of several bills calling for increases in salaries of state officers and judges precipitated the action of the two senators—and the executive called their cards.

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Although Governor Christianson is said to look with favor upon proposals to decrease his salary legislation to that effect did not get very far when taken up in the senate and house today.

When a bill introduced by Senators J. H. Traxler and C. J. Putzier proposing to cut the governor's salary from the present $7,000 to $6,000 was brought up in the senate it was sent to the civil administration committee. It is expected to meet a natural death with adjournment of the 1927 legislature.

The same fate will probably meet a bill brought up in the house today asking for the decrease in the governor's pay. The house laid the measure on the table when introduced by Rep. Charles Munn, Osseo.

Senator Traxler announced he would ask for a general reduction in salaries of all Minnesota state employees at the next session of the legislature.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, MARION, IS BOMBED TODAY

AUTHORITIES THINK IT'S NEW

GEANCE

THREE BAPTIST MEMBERS ARE ELECTED TO MARION CITY COMMISSION

Marion, Ill., April 20.—(UP)—The First Baptist church was bombed here today following election of three of its members to the Marion city commission.

Authorities believed the attempt to destroy the church marked a new mode of vengeance in the stormy career of "Bloody Williamson," the county of which this is the seat.

The three elected commissioners, James H. Felts, Roy Blackburn and A. M. Garrison, campaigned on reform platforms in a hard fight for the offices. They denounced gambling, bootlegging and lawlessness.

There were no disorders at the polls yesterday, however, and Marion was congratulating itself on a peaceful election when a bomb wrecked the main entrance of the church with a blast that could be heard all over the city.

The front door and the decorated hallway just inside were splintered. Damage was estimated at $1,000. The church is one of the largest in Marion. The Rev. A. E. Price is pastor.

No trace of the vandals had been found up to noon today.

Besides the three Baptists elected yesterday, E. M. Turmond defeated Elijah Lewis for mayor by 1,400 votes. All of the successful candidates were reformers.

SENATE PASSES OMNIBUS GAME AND FISH BILL

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—The senate passed the omnibus game and fish bill before-noon adjournment and will continue the special order on game and fish this afternoon.

The bill passed would eliminate two zones which had two dates for opening of the fishing season. It also contained clauses governing powers and duties of deputy game wardens.

BRAINERD

There wasn't a spare pen, pencil or typewriter in Brainerd last night. Almost before The Dispatch was out telling about the MAKING MOVIES contest which this newspaper is giving in conjunction with Finkelstein & Ruben and the Berkova Motion Picture Company of Hollywood the aspiring movie scenario writers of this city had snapped into action for the $10 prize.

The first contestant for the prize and fame award was also quite the most ambitious. She called the editor of this newspaper and asked if a 5-reel scenario would be acceptable.

While it is the intention of the sponsors to stage a production about two reels long, which means two thousand feet of film, the eager girl was informed that, if the judges would decide on her scenario and could see their way to cutting it to the desired length, it would be acceptable.

So she promised to put it in the mail right away. Now it is a race to see whether or not her plot will be the first to reach The Dispatch.

In a wire from officials of the Berkova Production unit of Hollywood, word has been received that a carload of movie studio equipment, including a huge lightening truck, entirely self-contained, with a generator powerful enough to supply current for the blinding lights necessary for night and interior scenes, will soon be under way.

So you writers of love, adventure and comedy had better start work right away on the film that may bring you $10 in cash and local fame as a reel author.

The rules of the contest were published in last night's paper. They will be repeated again tomorrow. Watch for them.

The men in Jackson county jail are Mayor William Duzdie, Chief of Police William Green and William Davis, former Jackson county deputy sheriff.

Stica is at Browning hospital in Duquoin, Ill. He is not expected to survive the day. Four gunshot wounds were inflicted during his fight with the Dowell officials.

NATIONAL BANK TAX PROBLEM MAY BE SOLVED

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—(UP)—Two measures designed to solve the national bank tax problem were passed by the senate Tuesday night.

One of the bills would not permit deposit of state funds in tax delinquent banks under the present state law when banks adhere to the U. S. supreme court decision recently declaring the Minnesota law unconstitutional.

The other bill would appoint an interim commission to make a study of the situation and report to the 1929 legislature.

Both measures were passed by the house Tuesday morning.

COMMITTEE RACES TO MAKE SCHALL REPORT

AT NOON INVESTIGATING BODY
DIVIDED INTO THREE

TRY COMPROMISE TO THROW OUT AT LEAST ONE REPORT

By WILLIAM E. HALLBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—(UP)—(3:50 P. M.)—The senate investigating committee which met today agreed on a report vindicating United States Senator Schall.

A few minutes before the report was made in the senate the United Press learned that Senator Victor Lawson of Willmar and Senator A. Carley of Barnesville had capitulated to the arguments of the other three members of the committee and agreed to exonerate Senator Schall of charges of accepting bootleggers contributions to his campaign with his knowledge.

Lawson was author of the resolution in which the charges were made and providing for the inquiry.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—The senate investigating committee raced with time today to prepare its report of the inquiry into the election of U. S. Senator Thomas D. Schall. At noon today, the committee was divided into three camps. A compromise that would throw out one report was being attempted.

The situation at that time was:

1. Senator W. A. Blanchard, of Anoka, chairman of the committee, had drawn up a preliminary report, declaring that "the evidence adduced in the long investigation is not sufficient to prove charges contained in the resolution providing for the investigation."

2. Senator Victor Lawson, of Willmar, author of the resolution for the inquiry, remained firm in his intention to submit a minority report, asking the U. S. senate to reopen the Schall case.

3. Senator James A. Carley, of Plainview, although not satisfied with the wording of the majority report, was expected to yield to it.

Meanwhile, the United Press and the St. Paul Daily News conducted a poll of senators who have followed the investigation from the beginning and learned that they expected the investigating committee to return a report favorable to Sen. Schall.

The five members of the committee were to meet late today in a final effort to get Senators Carley and Lawson to agree to the majority report. Whether the committee would merely file the report or ask that it be approved was not known.

Sen. Schall, incidentally, is confident that he will be cleared of the charges of A. N. Jacobs, Minneapolis publisher, that he knew bootleggers contributed to his campaign.

Friends said that Schall expected the senate committee report to brand Jacobs a liar in a mild manner.

ANOTHER DEATH AT HOLLYWOOD ADDS TROUBLES

RAY RAYMOND SUCCUMBS TO A
FRACTURED SKULL AFTER
FIGHT

EXCHANGED BLOWS WITH PAUL
KELLY, MOTION PICTURE
JUVENILE

By DAN CAMPBELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Hollywood, Calif., April 20.—Three brilliant careers, sacrificed on the altar of the eternal triangle, lay shattered here today, with one of the principals dead, another facing murder charges, and the third and central figure a broken, hysterical young widow.

A terrific struggle that reverted to the primitive use of bare knuckles was assigned by police, after an exhaustive but belated investigation, as the cause of the death of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, who succumbed to a fractured skull in a hospital here yesterday.

Paul Kelly, rapidly rising screen juvenile, paced a cell in the Hollywood police station facing charges for the death of Raymond. A contract which he was to have accepted today and which was to have brought him one step nearer stardom, lay unsigned in the office of a large movie studio.

The woman, admittedly the cause of a battle between Kelly and Raymond which resulted in the latter's death, is Dorothy Mackaye, star of "The Dove," "The Sun Daughter" and other stage successes, and wife of Raymond. She is reported prostrated with grief at her home after making a detailed statement to detectives.

From statements made by Mrs. Raymond, Kelly and a negro maid, Ethel Lee, eye-witness to the struggle police reconstructed the battle between Kelly and Raymond, which took place Saturday night.

Upon Mrs. Raymond's asserted admission to the police that she and Kelly had "played around together a bit," investigators founded the case which they continued to build around Kelly today.

According to details of the affair, as pieced together by detectives, Kelly called Raymond on the telephone Saturday night and bitter words were exchanged with the result that Kelly went to the Raymond home.

"I told him on the phone that I had heard he was talking about me, and that I wanted him to cut it out," Kelly told police in a signed statement.

"You're d-d right I have," Raymond answered, according to Kelly's statement. "I wish you were here now so I could give you what you deserve."

"When I got to the house," Kelly said, "Raymond accused me of caring for his wife and I slapped him." Kelly said that Raymond had been drinking and admitted that he had had a few drinks himself.

"When I went into the kitchen to get a cigarette from the maid, Raymond followed me to the door," Kelly said in his statement. "When I turned around, Raymond started for me, crying 'I'll knock you cold.' I was blind mad and with that hit him four or five times and then left the house."

Kelly said their quarrel dated back several months when Raymond ordered him from the house one night.

"Did you tell him that you were in love with his wife?" detectives asked.

"I said, 'You are right,'" Kelly replied.

Kelly declared that he used only his bare fists in the struggle but admitted that he struck the first blow and could not recall whether Raymond had struck him.

In her signed statement to detectives, Mrs. Raymond said she had been out buying Easter eggs for her four-year-old daughter, Valerie, and returned home to find her husband badly bruised and with a black eye.

"He said he felt all right after telling me that Paul had been at the house."

"Then we had a drink of gin to gether," Mrs. Raymond said.

Mrs. Raymond said she had known

COURT ADJOURNS TO MONDAY

REED'S ILLNESS

LATTER IS RECOVERING FROM

GESTION

By MARBEN GRAHAM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Detroit, Mich., April 20.—Five weeks' time consumed in painstaking presentation of evidence in the $1,000,000 suit of Aaron Sapiro against Henry Ford hung in the balance today as attorneys for the millionaire worked on affidavits seeking a mistrial.

Court stood adjourned until Thursday morning because of illness of Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, chief cross examiner for the defense.

Sensor Reed is recovering from a slight attack of acute indigestion and is understood to need rest.

Ford attorneys were gathering affidavits concerning alleged statements of prejudice by Mrs. Cora Hoffman, one of the jurors, in the corridors of the federal building, seeking to have her disqualified.

Judge Fred M. Raymond indicated to newspapermen that he felt inclined to "prosecute for violation of the criminal code" rather than cite any individual for contempt of court.

HOUSE FROWNS ON MORE BURDENS ON AUTO DRIVERS

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Placing an additional burden of $2,500,000 on automobile drivers was frowned upon by the house today when it defeated the bill to increase the gasoline tax from two to three cents.

The vote was 39 to 91.

Kelly since "he was a kid actor in New York, when I was there."

"He came into my life long before I knew Raymond," she said. "Raymond took a violent dislike to him and Paul was kind of down in the dumps when he came to Hollywood. I felt sorry for him."

"He used to call me quite often and came to the house while Mr. Raymond was away, but Mr. Raymond knew of it," she said.

Asked if there was anything that caused Raymond and herself to clash over Kelly, she said:

"Well, he told me that he had forbidden me to see Paul and Paul was my friend first and Ray wasn't kind to me. It is a terrible thing to say since this awful thing has happened, but after all I can't help it and I felt that Paul's friendship for me was very clean. It was very lovely and very beautiful and I didn't want to give it up."

TORRENTS OF WATER SWEEP AWAY LEVEES

INUNDATE COUNTLESS ACRES OF
RICH FARMING
LANDS

HOMES IN THE LOW-
LANDS

Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—(UP)—The worst flood conditions in 25 years prevailed in many parts of Kansas and Missouri today as great torrents of water swept away levees and dykes and inundated countless acres of farming land and invaded thousands of homes.

Waterspouts and cyclones continued unabated yesterday, striking in many places in the southwest already suffering from floods and high winds.

At least 16 persons lost their lives in the states of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas during Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night when twisting winds swept away houses and many were caught in high water and were unable to escape.

Hundreds of families around Springfield, Missouri, lost all of their belongings in the floods that have covered a wide territory. Throughout the Ozark region property damage has been enormous. Forsyth, Branson and Hollister suffered the greatest losses from high water in history.

Hundreds of persons fled in boats when the waters of the Missouri river, which has spread over a large area, overflowed below Carrollton, Mo. In the same section, a cyclone struck last night, damaging many houses.

The Neosho river, on another rampage, is expected to pour the greatest flood in history into Chanute, Kansas, this morning. Near the town it is three miles wide and is spreading gradually. Nearly all roads into the town are under water.

Many families at Iola, Kansas, spent the night in the school building, in churches and the troop armory after which high water from the Neosho river, which will rise again there today, had driven them from their homes.

The Blue river was receding in Kansas City today after a rampage that forced 40 families to evacuate their homes. More than 2,000 telephones in the city were put out of order.

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—Flood conditions in the Mississippi valley from here to New Orleans promised to bring still further devastation today following heavy rain and wind storms over the upper valley yesterday.

The Missouri, Grand and Osage rivers were once more on the rise, presaging a new wave of high water. The upper section of the raging river will reach a crest today and lower Mississippi's period of highest flood stage will be prolonged.

Four lives were added to the death toll in Oklahoma yesterday. Two negro men and a negro woman were reported drowned near Okay, Okla., while attempting to rescue a marooned family.

Thousands of acres were added to the inundated area by a break in the city levee at New Madrid, Mo. The entire St. Francis basin in eastern Arkansas, one of the most fertile spots in the United States, appeared doomed to inundation.

Water was bearing down upon an area of 100 miles long and almost half as wide from the broken flood wall. More than 75 towns and villages were in the threatened area. Scores were left homeless. Crops were destroyed.

The main river levee continued to hold but engineers feared it would go out today, unleashing the main torrent. The levee already broken is a secondary wall which protected New Madrid from backwash of floods farther north.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—(UP)—(3:50 P. M.)—The senate investigating committee which met today agreed on a report vindicating United States Senator Schall.

A few minutes before the report was made in the senate the United Press learned that Senator Victor Lawson of Willmar and Senator A. Carley of Barnesville had capitulated to the arguments of the other three members of the committee and agreed to exonerate Senator Schall of charges of accepting bootleggers contributions to his campaign with his knowledge.

Lawson was author of the resolution in which the charges were made and providing for the inquiry.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—The senate investigating committee raced with time today to prepare its report of the inquiry into the election of U. S. Senator Thomas D. Schall. At noon today, the committee was divided into three camps. A compromise that would throw out one report was being attempted.

The situation at that time was:

1. Senator W. A. Blanchard, of Anoka, chairman of the committee, had drawn up a preliminary report, declaring that "the evidence adduced in the long investigation is not sufficient to prove charges contained in the resolution providing for the investigation."

2. Senator Victor Lawson, of Willmar, author of the resolution for the inquiry, remained firm in his intention to submit a minority report, asking the U. S. senate to reopen the Schall case.

3. Senator James A. Carley, of Plainview, although not satisfied with the wording of the majority report, was expected to yield to it.

Meanwhile, the United Press and the St. Paul Daily News conducted a poll of senators who have followed the investigation from the beginning and learned that they expected the investigating committee to return a report favorable to Sen. Schall.

The five members of the committee were to meet late today in a final effort to get Senators Carley and Lawson to agree to the majority report.

Whether the committee would merely file the report or ask that it be approved was not known.

Sen. Schall, incidentally, is confident that he will be cleared of the charges of A. N. Jacobs, Minneapolis publisher, that he knew bootleggers contributed to his campaign.

ANOTHER DEATH AT HOLLYWOOD ADDS TROUBLES

RAY RAYMOND SUCCUMBS TO A
FIGHT

KELLY, MOTION PICTURE
JUVENILE

By DAN CAMPBELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Hollywood, Calif., April 20.—Three brilliant careers, sacrificed on the altar of the eternal triangle, lay shattered here today, with one of the principals dead, another facing murder charges, and the third and central figure a broken, hysterical young widow.

A terrific struggle that reverted to the primitive use of bare knuckles was assigned by police, after an exhaustive but belated investigation, as the cause of the death of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, who succumbed to a fractured skull in a hospital here yesterday.

Paul Kelly, rapidly rising screen juvenile, paced a cell in the Hollywood police station facing charges for the death of Raymond. A contract which he was to have accepted today and which was to have brought him one step nearer stardom, lay unsigned in the office of a large movie studio.

The woman, admittedly the cause of a battle between Kelly and Raymond which resulted in the latter's death, is Dorothy Mackaye, star of "The Dove," "The Sun Daughter" and other stage successes, and wife of Raymond. She is reported prostrated with grief at her home after making a detailed statement to detectives.

From statements made by Mrs. Raymond, Kelly and a negro maid, Ethel Lee, eye-witness to the struggle police reconstructed the battle between Kelly and Raymond, which took place Saturday night.

Upon Mrs. Raymond's asserted admission to the police that she and Kelly had "played around together a bit," investigators founded the case which they continued to build around Kelly today.

According to details of the affair, as pieced together by detectives, Kelly called Raymond on the telephone Saturday night and bitter words were exchanged with the result that Kelly went to the Raymond home.

"I told him on the phone that I had heard he was talking about me, and that I wanted him to cut it out," Kelly told police in a signed statement.

"You're d—d right I have," Raymond answered, according to Kelly's statement. "I wish you were here now so I could give you what you deserve."

"When I got to the house," Kelly said, "Raymond accused me of caring for his wife and I slapped him."

Kelly said that Raymond had been drinking and admitted that he had had a few drinks himself.

"When I went into the kitchen to get a cigaret from the maid, Raymond followed me to the door," Kelly said in his statement. "When I turned around, Raymond started for me, crying 'I'll knock you cold.'"

"I was blind mad and with that hit him four or five times and then left the house."

Kelly said their quarrel dated back several months when Raymond ordered him from the house one night.

"Did you tell him that you were in love with his wife?" detectives asked.

"I said, 'You are right,'" Kelly replied.

Kelly declared that he used only his bare fists in the struggle but admitted that he struck the first blow and could not recall whether Raymond had struck him.

In her signed statement to detectives, Mrs. Raymond said she had been out buying Easter eggs for her four-year-old daughter, Valerie, and returned home to find her husband badly bruised and with a black eye.

"He said he felt all right after telling me that Paul had been at the house."

"Then we had a drink of gin together," Mrs. Raymond said.

Mrs. Raymond said she had known

5 WEEKS' TIME IN SAPIRO-FORD TRIAL IN BALANCE

COURT ADJOURNS TO MONDAY
BECAUSE OF SENATOR
REED'S ILLNESS

LATTER IS RECOVERING FROM ATTACK OF ACUTE INDI-
GESTION

By MARBEN GRAHAM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Detroit, Mich., April 20.—Five weeks' time consumed in painstaking presentation of evidence in the $1,000,000 suit of Aaron Sapiro against Henry Ford hung in the balance today as attorneys for the millionaire worked on affidavits seeking a mistrial.

Court stood adjourned until Thursday morning because of illness of Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, chief cross examiner for the defense.

Sensor Reed is recovering from a slight attack of acute indigestion and is understood to need rest.

Ford attorneys were gathering affidavits concerning alleged statements of prejudice by Mrs. Cora Hoffman, one of the jurors, in the corridors of the federal building, seeking to have her disqualified.

Judge Fred M. Raymond indicated to newspapermen that he felt inclined to "prosecute for violation of the criminal code" rather than cite any individual for contempt of court.

HOUSE FROWNS ON MORE BURDENS ON AUTO DRIVERS

St. Paul, April 20.—(UP)—Placing an additional burden of $2,500,000 on automobile drivers was frowned upon by the house today when it defeated the bill to increase the gasoline tax from two to three cents.

The vote was 39 to 91.

Kelly since "he was a kid actor in New York, when I was there."

"He came into my life long before I knew Raymond," she said. "Raymond took a violent dislike to him and Paul was kind of down in the dumps when he came to Hollywood. I felt sorry for him."

"He used to call me quite often and came to the house while Mr. Raymond was away, but Mr. Raymond knew of it," she said.

Asked if there was anything that caused Raymond and herself to clash over Kelly, she said:

"Well, he told me that he had forbidden me to see Paul and Paul was my friend first and Ray wasn't kind to me. It is a terrible thing to say since this awful thing has happened, but after all I can't help it and I felt that Paul's friendship for me was very clean. It was very lovely and very beautiful and I didn't want to give it up."

TORRENTS OF WATER SWEEP AWAY LEVEES

INUNDATE COUNTLESS ACRES OF
RICH FARMING
LANDS

HOMES IN THE LOW-
LANDS

Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—(UP)—The worst flood conditions in 25 years prevailed in many parts of Kansas and Missouri today as great torrents of water swept away levees and dykes and inundated countless acres of farming land and invaded thousands of homes.

Waterspouts and cyclones continued unabated yesterday, striking in many places in the southwest already suffering from floods and high winds.

At least 16 persons lost their lives in the states of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas during Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night when twisting winds swept away houses and many were caught in high water and were unable to escape.

Hundreds of families around Springfield, Missouri, lost all of their belongings in the floods that have covered a wide territory. Throughout the Ozark region property damage has been enormous. Forsyth, Branson and Hollister suffered the greatest losses from high water in history.

Hundreds of persons fled in boats when the waters of the Missouri river, which has spread over a large area, overflowed below Carrollton, Mo. In the same section, a cyclone struck last night, damaging many houses.

The Neosho river, on another rampage, is expected to pour the greatest flood in history into Chanute, Kansas, this morning. Near the town it is three miles wide and is spreading gradually. Nearly all roads into the town are under water.

Many families at Iola, Kansas, spent the night in the school building, in churches and the troop armory after which high water from the Neosho river, which will rise again there today, had driven them from their homes.

The Blue river was receding in Kansas City today after a rampage that forced 40 families to evacuate their homes. More than 2,000 telephones in the city were put out of order.

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—Flood conditions in the Mississippi valley from here to New Orleans promised to bring still further devastation today following heavy rain and wind storms over the upper valley yesterday.

The Missouri, Grand and Osage rivers were once more on the rise, presaging a new wave of high water. The upper section of the raging river will reach a crest today and lower Mississippi's period of highest flood stage will be prolonged.

Four lives were added to the death toll in Oklahoma yesterday. Two negro men and a negro woman were reported drowned near Okay, Okla., while attempting to rescue a marooned family.

Thousands of acres were added to the inundated area by a break in the city levee at New Madrid, Mo. The entire St. Francis basin in eastern Arkansas, one of the most fertile spots in the United States, appeared doomed to inundation.

Water was bearing down upon an area of 100 miles long and almost half as wide from the broken flood wall. More than 75 towns and villages were in the threatened area. Scores were left homeless. Crops were destroyed.

The main river levee continued to hold but engineers feared it would go out today, unleashing the main torrent. The levee already broken is a secondary wall which protected New Madrid from backwash of floods farther north.

GENE STRATTON PORTER STORY

FRIDAY, APRIL 22

Concerns Human Nature, Hopes and Loves of Men and Women

Through the courtesy of F. B. O. the last of the Gene Stratton-Porter stories will commence as a serial in the Brainerd Daily Dispatch on Friday, April 22.

This beloved writer concerned herself chiefly with human nature, the hopes and loves of men and women. It is for this reason that her appeal is universal; she understood the heartaches of life and the trials and happiness that make life worth living.

In this particular story the attention is centered about a boy and girl who meet in their childhood in the boy's magic garden.

Their friendship lasts through the years, and turns into the heartaches, dreams and fantasies of love. Long years pass by, made magic by the author's pen and soon, having grown to man and womanhood, the children come back—to "The Magic Garden." It is more than a story—it is the last message of love from America's greatest authoress—Gene Stratton Porter. There are 28 generous installments. If you aren't a regular subscriber to the Dispatch, call 74 and don't miss any of the episodes.

GENE STRATTON PORTER STORY

Through Courtesy of F. B. O. Serial Starts in Daily Dispatch

FRIDAY, APRIL 22

Concerns Human Nature, Hopes and Loves of Men and Women

Through the courtesy of F. B. O., the last of the Gene Stratton-Porter stories will commence as a serial in the Brainerd Daily Dispatch on Friday, April 22.

This beloved writer concerned herself chiefly with human nature, the hopes and loves of men and women. It is for this reason that her appeal is universal; she understood the heartaches of life and the trials and happiness that make life worth living.

In this particular story the attention is centered about a boy and girl who meet in their childhood in the boy's magic garden.

Their friendship lasts through the years, and turns into the heartaches, dreams and fantasies of love. Long years pass by, made magic by the author's pen and soon, having grown to man and womanhood, the children come back—to "The Magic Garden." It is more than a story—it is the last message of love from America's greatest authoress—Gene Stratton Porter. There are 28 generous installments. If you aren't a regular subscriber to the Dispatch, call 74 and don't miss any of the episodes.

Farewell Party for Miss Russell
Mrs. Joseph LaCourse was hostess at a farewell party in compliment to Miss Lucille Russell who is leaving soon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Russell for California where they will make their future home. Miss Russell was presented with a wrist watch as a remembrance. The evening was spent in music and games and a delicious lunch was served.

The following guests were present: Gerald and Beryl Hall, Gertrude, Christ and Julius Miller, Clifford Nordstrom, Clifford Brousseau, Alta Dougherty, Lucille Luck, Ned and Overt Benson, Roger Tower, Mildred Witham, Margaret-Ludwig, Evelyn Fink, Hazel Bahma, Jean and Helen Lucas, Lucille Gendron, Lawrence Liners, Milton Nelson, Arlene Hagberg, Lester Peterson, Clyde and Irvin Herman, Francis McCullough, Vina Gilmer, Arden Miller, Margaret Nippervick, Genevieve LaCourse, Eva Russell.

FIREMEN GIVE BENEFIT SHOW

"The Fire Brigade" to be Presented at Park Theatre April 21 and 22

Tells of Firemen, Heroes of Peace, Best of These Take Part in Film

"The Fire Brigade," the firemen's benefit show, to be presented at the Park theatre Thursday and Friday, April 21-22, is an epic story of the heroes of peace and some of the best fire fighters in the world take part in the action. Advance ticket sales indicate a record attendance at this year's fire picture.

Starring Charles Ray and May McAvoy, this picture is replete with thrilling scenes and deeds of daring. The story is built around an Irish family of fire-fighters, including "Pop" O'Neill, grandfather of Terry O'Neill, the hero, Jim, a brother whose life is lost in a disastrous waterfront fire shortly after the story opens, Joe, another brother, also a "fire-eater," and Mrs. O'Neill, whose life has been spent under the shadow of the red monster who took her husband from her and who constantly threatens the lives of her sons.

A thread of romance is woven through the story, beginning when Helen Corwin, millionaire heiress, falls in love with Terry, continuing throughout the story and finding its climax near the end in the annual parade of the fire department.

Grafting politicians battling the fire chief, a breath-taking 85-foot leap from a blazing building, a great-four alarm fire at the orphanage, the fire equipment of today in a mad race with the horses of yesterday and a score of other interest-compelling scenes all go to make up a picture which holds interest from start to finish.

homes of the county will do well to take advantage of this opportunity which is being promoted and is a part of the program of the Crow Wing County Sunday School association.

Further information may be had from Mrs. G. E. Lammon who is children's division superintendent of the Crow Wing county.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

April 19, 1902

Last night a number of valuable tools were stolen from the L. W. Burrell blacksmith shop and the police are on the lookout for the guilty parties. They are of the opinion that there is an organized gang of thieves in this city who are operating systematically and a warning note has been sent out.

Considerable surprise was evidenced this morning by those who are on the outside to learn that some 75 or 80 men who worked as machinists for the Northern Pacific shops went on a strike. So smoothly have things been apparently running at the shops that no one had the slightest idea that there was any trouble. The men walked out at 9:30 o'clock without creating any disturbance or raising any excitement and up to the hour of going to press there was no probability of the matter being settled.

Mr. and Mrs. August Sorenson returned from their wedding trip this afternoon. They will go to keeping house at once in their new home on Bluff Ave.

William Manning, J. C. Atherton, L. H. Horle, Henry Bass and J. C. Kenny, all prominent conductors on the M. & N. leave for Staples tonight where they will be initiated into the

O. R. C. tomorrow. A number of other railroad men will go down to see them ride the goat.

"WHERE'S THE REST OF IT?"

THE body of crime prevention legislation which is to come out of the present legislative session presents a very different appearance from the body of crime prevention legislation proposed by the crime commission, says the Minneapolis Tribune in an editorial which takes up the present situation in an apt manner.

"One leg has been shot away; a second has been amputated from the knee; the nose has been squashed in; the two eyes are missing; the teeth have all been knocked out; an arm has been lost in the shuffle; several of the ribs have been broken and an ear has been lopped off. Aside from these trifling misadventures, the crime commission's program fared very well at the hands of the legislature.

"When the legislature convened, no one thought that it would fail to take advantage of its good fortune in having the crime commission's body of recommendations before it. Minnesota was confronted with a crime problem. Remedial legislation was required; and the right remedial legislation had been efficiently, painstakingly, and methodically worked out for the legislature in advance. The legislature was in the situation of a man who, under the necessity of building a certain type of house, was lucky enough to have the plans given him by a friendly architect. And yet the legislature preferred to mussy up the plans and improvise new (and naturally vastly inferior) plans by relying on chance suggestions and inspirations of the moment. It insisted on making an amateurish botch out of a professional job.

"A few of the multitudinous proposals made by the crime commission were permitted to go through. Others were eviscerated and then permitted to go through. The most important ones were killed. A case might be made out to the effect that, as a result of the legislative session, the state will be in a somewhat stronger position to fight the criminal than before. This, no doubt, is true. But little glory goes to the legislature on that account.

"The crime commission has given it a loaf which it had asked be passed on to the people. The people made it plain that they wanted the loaf. The legislature threw most of the loaf out through the window, and passed a couple of slices and a number of crumbs on to the people. The legislature may feel that it is entitled to the gratitude of the people for having done this, but it is quite unlikely that the people will feel the same way about it. The people are only too likely to ask the embarrassing question: 'What happened to the rest of the loaf?'

"WHO PAYS THE BILLS?"

A WORLD of the truth lies just under the surface of the high school play, "Who Pays the Bills?" presented last night at the Park theatre. It shows the sham and hypocrisy which prevails in many cross sections of American life, and some lines of the play especially sensed this:

"If every one knew the exact financial standing of everybody else there would be panic."

The play is billed as a comedy and it is hilariously funny, but beneath its surface, and you don't have to scratch far, one finds truths looming, and it is a satire on the false fronts of many people, their insane desire to keep up with others in various things when their own butcher or baker or groceryman is wondering where his payments are coming from.

And many tradesmen had so much invested that he naturally inquired if the entertaining family was keeping boarders. It will pay you to see this high school play a second time, just to gather some of the philosophical truths "handed out."

That little episode, where the host tried to borrow $5, and his gallant company had to confess near disaster in finances, is a delicious bit of comedy.

THE IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE

OF the Izaak Walton League, which will hold a district convention at Brainerd this year, Herbert Hoover, secretary of the U. S. Department of Commerce, has well said of the national organization and its branches:

"The Izaak Walton League has become the greatest force in the country for the protection and development of opportunities for outdoor life. And we need more of it.

"We need every encroachment upon it stopped. As our people increase in numbers and in leisure we must have stimulation to health, and above all the moral value that comes from association with nature.

"Every member of the League is a further soldier in our ranks fighting an organized battle for this vital thing in the nation."

"WHERE'S THE REST OF IT?"

THE body of crime prevention legislation which is to come out of the present legislative session presents a very different appearance from the body of crime prevention legislation proposed by the crime commission, says the Minneapolis Tribune in an editorial which takes up the present situation in an apt manner.

"One leg has been shot away; a second has been amputated from the knee; the nose has been squashed in; the two eyes are missing; the teeth have all been knocked out; an arm has been lost in the shuffle; several of the ribs have been broken and an ear has been lopped off. Aside from these trifling misadventures, the crime commission's program fared very well at the hands of the legislature.

"When the legislature convened, no one thought that it would fail to take advantage of its good fortune in having the crime commission's body of recommendations before it. Minnesota was confronted with a crime problem. Remedial legislation was required; and the right remedial legislation had been efficiently, painstakingly, and methodically worked out for the legislature in advance. The legislature was in the situation of a man who, under the necessity of building a certain type of house, was lucky enough to have the plans given him by a friendly architect. And yet the legislature preferred to muss up the plans and improvise new (and naturally vastly inferior) plans by relying on chance suggestions and inspirations of the moment. It insisted on making an amateurish botch out of a professional job.

YANKEES LEAD, PENNANT RACE IS OVER

ARE OUT SO FAR IN FRONT, SAYS BROADWAY

YANKEES, NATURALLY A GOOD BALL CLUB, SHOW HIGH CLASS

EXPERTS ADMIT IT'S THE MOST POLISHED TEAM IN THEIR MEMORY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, April 20.—The Yankees will be so far out in front by July that there won't be any race, Broadway is beginning to say.

So far this season the Yankees have shown themselves to be not only naturally a good ball club, but by all odds the class of the league and probably one of the greatest teams of all times.

Connie Mack had a great ball club once in the Philadelphia Athletics of $100,000 infield fame. Bill Carrigan had a great team of Boston Red Sox before he quit the game ten years ago. But Mack and Carrigan are willing to admit that if New York has not the most polished team in their memory, it has at least the most powerful.

The Athletics felt the power of the team in the first series of the season, failing to win a game. The Red Sox took socks on the chin until yesterday, when they succeeded in ending the Yanks' six-game winning streak.

"I've never seen a ball club with so many hitters that a pitcher had to bear down on every ball," Carrigan said today. "It's murderous on a pitcher to work on eight men on the club, any one of whom is liable to knock the ball out of the lot."

The advantage that a team gets from a flying start is well recognized by baseball managers. To the Yankees its value cannot be overstressed.

There have been cases where great teams got away to a poor start, as the Athletics are doing this year, and recovered enough when they hit their stride to make up the lost ground and win the pennant. There also have been teams which got away fast and held until mid-season approached, when they crumbled.

But in the case of the Yankees, it is no flash of spring form. It is class. When a batter is a .300 hitter, he is around that mark for good. The Yankees are all .300 hitters and are likely to get better as the season advances.

It cannot be overlooked that Babe Ruth is not hitting. He is just recovering from a severe cold and is not near "on his game." Yet the team has speeded along. The reserve strength is so well distributed that the team can get along without any player on the club for a time at least.

The club is getting great pitching from Herb Pennock and Dutch Ruether which, particularly in the case of Ruether, is an item of the greatest significance.

The advantage of the flying start while the western clubs are knocking each other off and while the Athletics and Senators are having trouble is particularly good for the Yankees. It is also conducive to spirit and confidence.

Colman and Vilma Banky in Third Film

Men, could you fall in love with the same girl three times in one year—and do it differently and charmingly each time?

Girls, could you fall in love all over again with the same man three times a year—and always look and feel as if it was really and truly the great adventure?

That is what has been demanded of two of the most popular people in America, Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky, and they have succeeded perhaps better than any other so-called "team" that ever played in motion pictures.

Three times in the past year, Mr. Colman has met, wooed and won Miss Banky. Three times Miss Banky has thrilled for the screen at Mr. Colman's approach, has played tender love scenes and at last succumbed to his peculiar charm.

And each time they have played the scenes better than ever before. In their last picture, "The Night of Love," which is playing at the Lyceum today, also Thursday and Friday, their lovemaking reaches a height perhaps never before attained on the screen.

And they love doing it!

SHOWS HE IS STILL PEERLESS RUNNING BASES

STEALS HOME AS CROWDER, SENATORS' PITCHER, WINDS UP

BOSTON BRAVES TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM NEW YORK GIANTS

(By United Press)

Yesterday's hero—Ty Cobb, who showed he is still without peer as a base runner by stealing home in the sixth inning as Crowder, Senators' pitcher, was winding up. Lamar on the play before the triple steal of which Cobb's score was a part, had broken a tie by crossing the plate on a sacrifice fly. The final score of the game was Philadelphia 3, Washington 1.

Cleveland's errors assisted the Detroit Tigers in recording an 8 to 5 victory. Miller, who relieved Kari on the mound, was ineffective against the Tigers whereas Stoner hurled well for Detroit.

Boston celebrated Patriots' Day by observing the Braves take a double header from the New York Giants. In the morning contest the Braves scored six runs in the fourth inning and won, 9 to 5. In the afternoon they broke an eighth inning tie for a 5 to 4 win.

"Cy" Williams hit his third homer as the Phillies made it three in a row from the Brooklyn Robins. Scott, hurling for Philadelphia, shut out the Dodgers, allowing but four hits. The score was 4 to 0.

Jess Haines chalked up his second victory of the season when he gave the Cincinnati Reds five hits and one run. Home runs by Bottomley and Hafey aided in the 9 to 1 victory of the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals.

To Wiltse, Boston Red Sox pitcher, goes credit for setting back the New York Yankees for the first time this season. Wiltse allowed nine hits, which were as many as his teammates collected, but the Red Sox converted theirs into twice as many runs as the Yanks. The score was 6 to 3.

Hitting of O'Rourke pleased the fans as the St. Louis Browns defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 5. His triple, double and two singles accounted for four of his team's tallies. The Sox rallied to tie the score at five all in the fifth, but O'Rourke's triple drove in a run in the Browns' half of the inning to break the tie.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION BASEBALL GAMES

Toledo, O.—The Kansas City Blues overcame a seven-run lead to tie the score in the ninth inning and then defeated the Toledo Mudhens in the eleventh, 9 to 8.

Columbus, O.—The Milwaukee Brewers secured a six-run lead in the first inning and were never overtaken in the final game of the series here. The score was 12 to 6.

Louisville, Ky.—An eighth inning rally fell short and Louisville lost its fifth straight game to St. Paul, 6 to 1.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Minneapolis' 11 to 10 victory over the Indians was anyone's game up until the last inning in which both teams scored four times. The Indians out-hit the Millers, 15 to 10.

Not since Charles Ray played in "The Girl I Loved" has he had a part that approached in dramatic sincerity that of Terry O'Neill in "The Fire Brigade," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which is to be seen as the local Firemen's benefit show at the Park theatre tonight also Thursday and Friday, matinee and night.

However, Terry O'Neill is a part that would delight the heart of any actor, and one that afforded Ray opportunities he had never before been granted.

YANKEES LEAD, PENNANT RACE IS OVER

ARE OUT SO FAR IN FRONT, SAYS BROADWAY

YANKEES, NATURALLY A GOOD BALL CLUB, SHOW HIGH CLASS

EXPERTS ADMIT IT'S THE MOST POLISHED TEAM IN THEIR MEMORY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 20.—The Yankees will be so far out in front by July that there won't be any race, Broadway is beginning to say.

So far this season the Yankees have shown themselves to be not only naturally a good ball club, but by all odds the class of the league and probably one of the greatest teams of all times.

Connie Mack had a great ball club once in the Philadelphia Athletics of $100,000 infield fame. Bill Carrigan had a great team of Boston Red Sox before he quit the game ten years ago. But Mack and Carrigan are willing to admit that if New York has not the most polished team in their memory, it has at least the most powerful.

The Athletics felt the power of the team in the first series of the season, failing to win a game. The Red Sox took socks on the chin until yesterday, when they succeeded in ending the Yanks' six-game winning streak.

"I've never seen a ball club with so many hitters that a pitcher had to bear down on every ball," Carrigan said today. "It's murderous on a pitcher to work on eight men on the club, any one of whom is liable to knock the ball out of the lot."

The advantage that a team gets from a flying start is well recognized by baseball managers. To the Yankees its value cannot be overstressed.

There have been cases where great teams got away to a poor start, as the Athletics are doing this year, and recovered enough when they hit their stride to make up the lost ground and win the pennant. There also have been teams which got away fast and held until mid-season approached, when they crumbled.

But in the case of the Yankees, it is no flash of spring form. It is class. When a batter is a .300 hitter, he is around that mark for good. The Yankees are all .300 hitters and are likely to get better as the season advances.

It cannot be overlooked that Babe Ruth is not hitting. He is just recovering from a severe cold and is not near "on his game." Yet the team has speeded along. The reserve strength is so well distributed that the team can get along without any player on the club for a time at least.

The club is getting great pitching from Herb Pennock and Dutch Reuther, which, particularly in the case of Reuther, is an item of the greatest significance.

The advantage of the flying start while the western clubs are knocking each other off and while the Athletics and Senators are having trouble is particularly good for the Yankees. It is also conducive to spirit and confidence.

TY COBB, HERO, YESTERDAY

SHOWS HE IS STILL PEERLESS RUNNING BASES

STEALS HOME AS CROWDER, SENATORS' PITCHER, WINDS UP

BOSTON BRAVES TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM NEW YORK GIANTS

(By United Press)

Yesterday's hero—Ty Cobb, who showed he is still without peer as a base runner by stealing home in the sixth inning as Crowder, Senators' pitcher, was winding up. Lamar on the play before the triple steal of which Cobb's score was a part, had broken a tie by crossing the plate on a sacrifice fly. The final score of the game was Philadelphia 3, Washington 1.

Cleveland's errors assisted the Detroit Tigers in recording an 8 to 5 victory. Miller, who relieved Karr on the mound, was ineffective against the Tigers whereas Stoner hurled well for Detroit.

Boston celebrated Patriots' Day by observing the Braves take a double header from the New York Giants. In the morning contest the Braves scored six runs in the fourth inning and won, 9 to 5. In the afternoon they broke an eighth inning tie for a 5 to 4 win.

"Cy" Williams hit his third homer as the Phillies made it three in a row from the Brooklyn Robins. Scott, hurling for Philadelphia, shut out the Dodgers, allowing but four hits. The score was 4 to 0.

Jess Haines chalked up his second

victory of the season when he gave the Cincinnati Reds five hits and one run. Home runs by Bottomley and Hafey aided in the 9 to 1 victory of the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals.

To Witse, Boston Red Sox pitcher, goes credit for setting back the New York Yankees for the first time this season. Witse allowed nine hits, which were as many as his teammates collected, but the Red Sox converted theirs into twice as many runs as the Yanks. The score was 6 to 3.

Hitting of O'Rourke pleased the fans as the St. Louis Browns defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 5. His triple, double and two singles accounted for four of his team's tallies. The Sox rallied to tie the score at five all in the fifth, but O'Rourke's triple drove in a run in the Browns' half of the inning to break the tie.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION BASEBALL GAMES

Toledo, O.—The Kansas City Blues overcame a seven-run lead to tie the score in the ninth inning and then defeated the Toledo Mudhens in the eleventh, 9 to 8.

Columbus, O.—The Milwaukee Brewers secured a six-run lead in the first inning and were never overtaken in the final game of the series here. The score was 12 to 6.

Louisville, Ky.—An eighth inning rally fell short and Louisville lost its fifth straight game to St. Paul, 6 to 9.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Minneapolis' 11 to 10 victory over the Indians was anyone's game up until the last inning in which both teams scored four times. The Indians out-hit the Millers, 15 to 10.

Not since Charles Ray played in "The Girl I Loved" has he had a part that approached in dramatic sincerity that of Terry O'Neill in "The Fire Brigade," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which is to be seen at the local Firemen's benefit show at the Park theatre tonight also Thursday and Friday, matinee and night.

However, Terry O'Neill is a part that would delight the heart of any actor, and one that afforded Ray opportunities he had never before been granted.

SMOKE OF BURNING LEAVES PREVAILS

Burning Rubbish Also Indicates Clean-Up, Paint-Up Campaign Started

STREET CREW AT WORK

Northwest Paper Grounds Are Being Put in Fine Shape by Crews

The smoke of burning leaves and the smell of burning rubbish mark the progress of the Clean-Up, Paint-Up campaign in Brainerd. Several fine days in our assorted weather considerably hastened the work.

The city's street crews engaged in the work of cleaning paved streets are nearing completion of their work. The center strips on North Sixth street are already showing green, while those on North Broadway have been levelled off ready for planting. Many cleaning activities on private premises are in evidence, and while rainy weather has hindered the progress of the work in places, in others it has brightened up the grass on lawns and boulevards.

A number of stores are offering attractive bargains in rakes and other tools used in clean-up work, as well as paint and building material for use in making improvements. People all over the city are engaged in removing accumulated rubbish from their premises. It is hoped that most of the more unsightly spots will be cleaned up by the end of this week.

At The Northwest Paper Co., always a leader in the clean-up, a crew of men are at work putting the grounds in the usual neat and trim order. School authorities will be urged to the attention of the various schools the matter of raking and cleaning in connection with the campaign.

Members of Painters' local union No. 1162 are having many calls for their services. Several business houses are planning work of this nature, while at others the work is in progress or has been nearly finished. Among the firms in the latter group are Van's Lunchroom, Brainerd Electric Co., Brainerd Office Supply Co., and the Central hotel. Lampert Bros. Lumber Co., Judd Wright & Son., Hayes-Lucas Lumber Co., and the Frank & James store report activity in the sale of paint, indicating that a large amount of this work will be done.

At this time of the year local dealers are co-operating with their customers in the work of re-shingling, putting on new roofs, building porches and general repair work. In the northeast section of the city several residences have been re-shingled and others have had new porches added and other improvements made.

Although somewhat retarded by the lateness of the spring and the unusually heavy quantity of moisture in the soil, many garden projects are already under way. Many back-yard plots will be planted in addition to the more ambitious gardening plans of others. Garden seeds of every variety are on display, both at the larger stores and the neighborhood stores in the residence sections.

A tour of the city cannot help but give one the impression that this year's improvement campaign will have the best results of any thus far. In all parts residents seem to be in accord with the slogan of the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League—"Make our city the most beautiful in the state."

LADIES' BAND CONCERT MONDAY

Annual Musical Treat to be Presented at the Park Theatre Monday, April 25th

PROGRAM INCLUDES NOVELTY Beautiful Souvenir Program Booklet to be Given to Patrons at Theatre

The Brainerd Ladies' band concert which has come to be an annual musical treat in Brainerd, will be given on Monday evening, April 25, at the New Park Theatre.

The organization has put in many strenuous hours of practice under the leadership of Winifred Cronk Ziebell, its able director, and as a result the concert this year will be more elaborate and better in every respect than any they have given in the past. Nearly every evening this week will be given over to final practice before the lifting of the curtain on Monday evening.

A new and novel feature of the program this year will be the Kitchenette Kazoo Orchestra of thirty pieces, which will be directed by Miss Mayme Scallon. Besides being a novelty in the music world, this orchestra will bring a variation in the band's program this year, which heretofore has consisted entirely of classical and popular numbers played on their regular instruments. While the ladies have kept the Kitchenette Kazoo Orchestra pretty much under cover, enough information has been absorbed by most of the public to make it both curious and enthusiastic over the prospects of listening to something entirely new in the musical line. The instruments used by the orchestra were designed and made in Brainerd by Mrs. F. A. Thompson, who also compiled a beautiful souvenir program booklet of twenty pages, the color scheme being blue and gold, the colors of their uniforms. In the booklet is a double page picture of the band with its personnel, besides advertisements and compliments from the merchants and county officers. Both the program for the regular concert and that of the Kitchenette Kazoo Orchestra is contained in the booklet. These souvenir booklets will be given to patrons at the theatre on the evening of the concert and most of them will be kept indefinitely. The merchants, business men and county officers who have already received their copies are highly pleased with them and proclaim the booklet a real work of art.

Tickets for the concert are going so fast that it is almost certain the house will be sold out before curtain time. The tickets may be secured from any member of the organization. Children's tickets may be purchased at the box office on Monday evening.

The ladies expect another successful season this year and have already been booked for several appearances, included among these being their participation at the Rotary festivities at St. Cloud on May 4.

Famous Minor Poet

One of the best-known short poems in the English language is "Old Armchair," written by Eliza Cook, who is called the poet of domestic affections. She was born in Southwark, London, England, in 1818. She early achieved success in the comparatively humble literary path she laid down for herself, and her articles and poems maintained her in comfort. She died in 1890.

Wise is the man who has a "Paint Shelf" in his cellar. On it, there is a goodly supply of emergency materials such as oils, paints, turpentine, paint-removers, enamels, varnishes and brushing lacquers. Then, when his wife asks him to do a little clean-up and paint-up job, he can attend to it at once. It is every bit as necessary to have such materials in the house, as to keep groceries in the cupboard.

We will help you make out an economical list.

Dear Sir:

We received a barrel of Iso-Vis motor oil on our contract as soon as it was available in Sioux City and have used it in our own demonstrators and personal cars as well as supplied it to our various customers ever since.

It has performed perfectly without the slightest trouble and we are glad, indeed, to recommend it highly. We have experienced no starting difficulties and find that the body of the oil remains constant.

At Lum Park the old caretaker, Emil Hanson, had clean-up work well under way before his successor, C. H. Ritter, took charge. The latter has made detailed plans for the coming summer and is hard at work getting everything moving. The Park board is very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Ritter, who for several seasons has been at Lincoln Camp in a similar capacity and refused an offer from Breezy Point in order to take up his duties here. One of his first acts after taking his new position was to rent bathing suits to a party of intrepid bathers who braved the cold waters of Rice Lake last Monday. Several picnic and swimming parties were reported to have been at the park this week. Hugo A. Kaatz, secretary of the Park board, who has charge of activities at the park, is looking forward to a big and successful season.

LECTURE ON ASTRONOMY

President Brown of St. Cloud Teachers' College to Speak at High School Gym

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 21

Has Long Enjoyed Fine Reputation as Student of Astronomy

President Brown of the St. Cloud Teachers' college, who has long enjoyed a fine reputation as a student of astronomy, has consented to come to Brainerd to give an illustrated lecture on the subject. This is a popular lecture which he has often given at St. Cloud, and those who have heard it have always come away very much pleased and much wiser. The tickets are selling for ten cents for students, and twenty cents for adults. The lecture will be given at the high school gymnasium at 8 o'clock on Thursday of this week.

When the average person looks at the sky on a starlit night, he sees a vast number of bright spots in the heavens. But outside of the Big and Little Dipper, they remain only unnamed bright spots. The study of astronomy is always a fascinating one, for by a knowledge of the stars the mental horizon is broadened as far as that of the sky he surveys. However, the usual thing that one does is to put off actually reading books about astronomy until some future date, even though the interest remains the same.

The grouping of stars in the various constellations has led to a vast fund of stories connected with them. Back in the days of the Greeks, when all phases of nature were closely connected with religion, legends arose explaining why various groups so came to be, so that Orion and the Pleiades are names to conjure with.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY A SUCCESS

Thoroughly Satisfied Audience
Chuckles Over "Who Pays the Bills?"

TRIALS OF YOUNG COUPLE

Faced Flood of Bills When Uninvited Company
Came

Leaving a thoroughly satisfied, chuckling and proud, home audience, the curtain at the Park theatre last night rang down on the final scene of the Senior class play, "Who Pays the Bills?" participated in by 17 young actors and actresses.

The play revolved around the trials of a young married couple, Wallace Judson and his bride, Mildred Judson, who through the tampering and wifely meaning of Tucker Whipple, a new friend, are forced to entertain a group of expensive and noted guests during the absence of Miss Huldah Judson, an aunt and owner of the country estate where the city bred Judsons have resolved to live and economize. Complications arise and consequently the bills mount higher and higher.

Verne McNamara in the leading male role of Wallace Judson, a young architectural genius without a job, made a dashing, handsome hero. He depicted remarkably well the trials and tribulations of a harassed "head of the house" without funds. He was too proud to accept his wife's sacrifice but finally was driven to pawn the last vestige of family wealth, when he was inadvertently caught by the expressman. He played the scenes of his capture and further financial revelations with a genuine understanding of the role.

Marguerite O'Brien, the heroine, was a sweet, pretty, unaffected bride. She gave an exceptional portrayal of a worried and nervous hostess and carried her difficult role with artistic ability. She was ever the sympathetic and thoughtful housewife, offering her jewels as a last resort to assuage the steadily mounting pile of debts. Much credit is due both Miss O'Brien and Verne McNamara for the manner in which they carried their parts.

Miss Huldah Judson, a devoted aunt, was characteristically portrayed by Marian Linnemann. Her costume and make-up were complete and she gave a cool and calm presentation of an eccentric spinster.

Carl Peterson as Tucker Whipple was a complete success as a "Mr. Fix It." He carried his role with a naturalness, ease and assurance that was marvelous. His unique ideas and desire for publicity kept the audience smiling and laughing. He is to be congratulated on the manner with which he carried his lengthy part to a happy close.

Raymond Anderson, as Charles Fallon, a college graduate, maintaining a Buster Keaton face and stole indifference kept his audience in gales of laughter from his initial entrance to the last scene when having been woefully rejected by the actress, Bettina Blandish, he finally succumbs to the charms of Phyllis Stotenboucher. His boredom with life in general and humorous quips were artfully given.

Rose Koering, as Bettina Blandish, of international screen fame, carried her care free, breezy, happy-go-lucky way into the hearts of everyone. She had a swagger, debonaire air and took the part of a typical screen actress, one that is written about in novels and feature stories perfectly. Having won fame, wealth and success she makes serious attempts to become a "refined lady" and to overcome her bad grammar which met the hearty approval of the audience. Miss Koering deserves much praise for her excellent portrayal.

William Tapp, an impossible expressman, played by Jack Anderson and Christophene, an emotional housemaid, portrayed by Helen Paine, brought down the house. Jack showed marvelous traits as a detective and made an excellent "not to be denied" lover. Miss Paine who has already won much local fame by her character portrayals created much merriment with her tears and quaint "O, Dear."

Dorothy Hanson as Phyllis Stotenboucher of the famous old Stotenboucher family was an efficient and cool governess at all times. She showed the "stuff of which she was made of" when she offered to conduct a tea room to aid the Judsons.

Ethel Emilson as Mrs. Babbidge, the personal proud possessor of an invalid husband and Elmer Peterson as Fallon Sr., both took their character parts well. Miss Emilson was a typical talkative servant and Elmer Peterson, a reserved, gray haired millionaire who finally solved his son's matrimonial problems himself.

Friends of Bettina Blandish included Alta Storm as Alicia Wheatley, Viola McKay as Mary Jane Collins and Mildred Butka as Gladys Langhorne. Neighborhood guests were Ellis King as Peter Logan, Wayne Curtis as Jack Baker and Russell Putz as Jimmy Logan. All took their minor parts well.

The gowns and settings were especially beautiful and the cast wish to express their appreciation to the O'Brien Mercantile Co. and to the Patek Furniture Co. for their generosity and also to the Husted and Scallion Hat shop for hats worn in the play.

With last night's performance, Miss Mary Tornstrom, director, won additional laurels as an already famous local producer. Credit as business manager of the play goes to Wayne Curtis.

A specialty between the first and second acts, "Now and Then" given under the direction of Miss Mildred O'Brien, was very much appreciated. The following girls took part, some being dressed in the vintage of many years ago and others in modern regalia. Novelty dances and stately minuets were also given.

Helen Templeton, Elnora Gillette, May Tierney, Clarice Halvorson, Esther Gallagher, Lena Gravelle, Dana Peterson, Dorothy Thabes, Helen Davis, Dora Albers, Violet Wolsted, Margaret Armstrong, Mary Siegel, Norva Knutson, Anna Erickson.

Julius Peterson with his two clarinet solos accompanied by Miss Cora Rickard, displayed talent in the rendering of two selections, "Cavatina" from Robert le Liabe and "Liebes Freund."

The H. S. orchestra under the direction of Miss Rickard was a pleasing factor of the evening's opening. Popular and classical numbers were given. The personnel of the orchestra includes:

Violins—Zita Miller, Emma Jean Jackson, Laura McGaffigan, Dorothy Kleven, Victor Bourgeois, Carl Peterson.

Clarinet—Julius Peterson, Elmer Peterson, Devere Beckley.

Cornets—Dale Sanders, Malcolm Lammon, Oscar Sieversen.

Flute—Guy Hawkins.

Saxophone—Roland Jenkins.

Trombones—Dorothy Schrader, Edward Gile.

Drums—John Ellison.

Due to the great demand for tickets another performance will be given in the high school auditorium this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

THE GREAT WORLD WAR

New York, April 20.—(UP)—How two battles that never were fought, plus a United States army that never existed helped to hurry the end of the great war and to speed the success of American soldiers at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne was revealed by Thomas Johnson in the May issue of the Century Magazine, published yesterday.

Johnson called his story a "True Secret Service Story of the War."

Fewer than 15 men of the French and American general staffs until now have known the inside details of the greatest American joke of the war, Johnson said.

The first hoax was to conceal plans for the St. Mihiel drive. General Pershing and Marshal Petain devised the deception with the assistance of Generals Conner, McAndrew and Drum. Major General Omar Bundy, Brigadier General Briant H. Wells, and a complete staff were the tools used by Pershing and Petain to fool the Germans.

Bundy and his aides were sent to Belfort, opposite a gap in the mountains beyond which lay Mulhouse and the Rhine with orders to prepare for a major offensive against the German lines. Belfort was full of spies, and Pershing knew it. General Bundy was not in on the secret and his business like preparation for a drive was complete in all detail. He expected 250,000 men to take part.

As these plans took shape, with virtually all the actors in the hoax ignorant of their true parts, the Germans became convinced that the impending St. Mihiel drive would not take place and that the Americans would strike from Belfort.

Then Col. A. L. Conger of the intelligence section of the A. E. F. who was Pershing's personal representative, baited a trap for a spy. Conger had noticed that his hotel was frequented by several persons who might be in the pay of the Germans. He wrote a letter to Pershing explaining that all was ready for the drive, and dropped the fresh piece of carbon paper used to make a copy in the waste basket. His words were impressed plainly on the carbon. Conger left his room for five minutes and when he returned the carbon was gone.

Three German divisions, Johnson said, were moved from St. Mihiel, where the Americans actually were planning to strike, to positions opposite Belfort. They numbered 36,000 men.

"Then on Sept. 12," said Johnson, "the American people were electrified by the first terse United Press dispatch sent by F. S. Ferguson, announcing that the real attack in the St. Mihiel salient had commenced. It was completely successful. The German reserves there were too weak for a counter attack. The ruse had worked."

The second ruse performed similar service before the Meuse-Argonne advance. Conger repeated the reconnoitering of a sector of quiet trenches and so utilized a detachment of 25 tanks in such a manner that German scouting planes believed tremendous numbers were being brought up at night.

The master stroke involved the use of wireless. General Drum and Col. Parker Hitt, using an obsolete American code known to be in the possession of the Germans, kept the full of messages of an advancing "tenth army," which never did exist. The Germans concentrated troops to meet the tenth army drive and the Americans struck elsewhere.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

SENIOR CLASS PLAY A SUCCESS

Thoroughly Satisfied Audience
Chuckles Over "Who Pays the Bills?"

TRIALS OF YOUNG COUPLE

Faced Flood of Bills When Uninvited Company Came

Leaving a thoroughly satisfied, chuckling and proud, home audience, the curtain at the Park theatre last night rang down on the final scene of the Senior class play, "Who Pays the Bills?" participated in by 17 young actors and actresses.

The play revolved around the trials of a young married couple, Wallace Judson and his bride, Mildred Judson, who through the taming and weir meaning of Tucker Whipple, a new friend, are forced to entertain a group of expensive and noted guests during the absence of Miss Huldah Judson, an aunt and owner of the country estate where the city bred Judsons have resolved to live and economize. Complications arise and consequently the bills mount higher and higher.

Verne McNamara in the leading male role of Wallace Judson, a young architectural genius without a job, made a dashing, handsome hero. He depicted remarkably well the trials and tribulations of a harassed "head of the house" without funds. He was too proud to accept his wife's sacrifice but finally was driven to pawn the last vestige of family wealth, when he was inadvertently caught by the expressman. He played the scenes of his capture and further financial revelations with a genuine understanding of the role.

Marguerite O'Brien, the heroine, was a sweet, pretty, unaffected bride. She gave an exceptional portrayal of a worried and nervous hostess and carried her difficult role with artistic ability. She was ever the sympathetic and thoughtful housewife, offering her jewels as a last resort to assuage the steadily mounting pile of debts. Much credit is due both Miss O'Brien and Verne McNamara for the manner in which they carried their parts.

Miss Huldah Judson, a devoted aunt, was characteristically portrayed by Marian Linnemann. Her costuming and make-up were complete and she gave a cool and calm presentation of an eccentric spinster.

Carl Peterson as Tucker Whipple was a complete success as a "Mr. Fix It." He carried his role with a naturalness, ease and assurance that was marvelous. His unique ideas and desire for publicity kept the audience smiling and laughing. He is to be congratulated on the manner with which he carried his lengthy part to a happy close.

Raymond Anderson, as Charles Fallon, a college graduate, maintaining a Buster Keaton face and stoical indifference kept his audience in gales of laughter from his initial entrance to the last scene when having been woefully rejected by the actress, Bettina Blandish, he finally succumbs to the charms of Phyllis Stotenboucher. His boredom with life in general and humorous quips were artfully given.

Rose Koering, as Bettina Blandish, of international screen fame, carried her care free, breezy, happy-go-lucky way into the hearts of everyone. She had a swag, debonair air and took the part of a typical screen actress, one that is written about in novels and feature stories perfectly. Having won fame, wealth and success, she makes serious attempts to become a "refined lady" and to overcome her bad grammar which met the hearty approval of the audience. Miss Koering deserves much praise for her excellent portrayal.

William Tapp, an impossible expressman, played by Jack Anderson and Christophene, an emotional housemaid, portrayed by Helen Logan, brought down the house. Jack showed marvelous traits as a detective and made an excellent "not to be denied" lover. Miss Paine who has already won much local fame by her character portrayals created much merriment with her tears and quaint "O, Dear."

Dorothy Hanson as Phyllis Stotenboucher of the famous old Stotenboucher family was an efficient and cool governess at all times. She showed the "stuff of which she was made of" when she offered to conduct a tea room to aid the Judsons.

Ethel Emilton as Mrs. Babbidge, the personal proud possessor of an invalid husband and Elmer Peterson as Fallon Sr., both took their character parts well. Miss Emilton was a typical talkative servant and Elmer Peterson, a reserved, gray haired millionaire who finally solved his son's matrimonial problems himself.

Friends of Bettina Blandish included Alta Storm as Alicia Wheatley, Viola McKay as Mary Jane Collins and Mildred Butka as Gladys Langhorne. Neighborhood guests were Ellis King as Peter Logan, Wayne Curtis as Jack Baker and Russell Putz as Jimmy Logan. All took their minor parts well.

The gowns and settings were especially beautiful and the cast wish to express their appreciation to the O'Brien Mercantile Co. and to the Patek Furniture Co. for their generosity and also to the Husted and Scallion Hat shop for hats worn in the play.

With last night's performance, Miss Mary Tornstrom, director, won additional laurels as an already famous local producer. Credit as business manager of the play goes to Wayne Curtis.

A specialty between the first and second acts, "Now and Then" given under the direction of Miss Mildred O'Brien, was very much appreciated. The following girls took part, some being dressed in the vintage of many years ago and others in modern regalia. Novelty dances and stately minuets were also given.

Helen Templeton, Elvora Gillelles, May Tierney, Clarice Halvorson, Esther Gallagher, Lena Gravelle, Dana Peterson, Dorothy Thabes, Helen Davis, Dora Albers, Violet Wolsted, Margaret Armstrong, Mary Siegel, Norva Knutson, Anna Erickson.

Julius Peterson with his two clarinet solos accompanied by Miss Cora Rickard, displayed talent in the rendering of two selections, "Cavatina" from Robert le Liabre and "Liebes Freud."

The H. S. orchestra under the direction of Miss Rickard was a pleasing factor of the evening's opening. Popular and classical numbers were given. The personnel of the orchestra includes:

Violins—Zita Miller, Emma Jean Jackson, Laura McGaffigan, Dorothy Kleven, Victor Bourgeois, Carl Peterson.

Clarinet—Julius Peterson, Elmer Peterson, De Vere Beckley.

Cornets—Dale Sanders, Malcolm Lammon, Oscar Sieversen.

Flute—Guy Hawkins.

Saxophone—Roland Jenkins.

Trombones—Dorothy Schrader, Howard Gile.

Drums—John Ellison.

Due to the great demand for tickets another performance will be given in the high school auditorium this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

TWO BATTLES NEVER FOUGHT AIDED CAUSE

PLUS U. S. ARMY THAT NEVER HAD AN EXISTENCE

HELPED TO HURRY THE END OF THE GREAT WORLD WAR

New York, April 20.—(UP)—How two battles that never were fought plus a United States army that never existed helped to hurry the end of the great war and to speed the success of American soldiers at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne was revealed by Thomas Johnson in the May issue of the Century Magazine, published yesterday.

Johnson called his story a "True Secret Service Story of the War."

Fewer than 15 men of the French and American general staffs until now have known the inside details of the greatest American joke of the war, Johnson said.

The first hoax was to conceal plans for the St. Mihiel drive. General Pershing and Marshal Petain devised the deception with the assistance of Generals Conner, McAndrew and Drum. Major General Omar Bundy, Brigadier General Briant H. Wells and a complete staff were the tools used by Pershing and Petain to fool Marshals Hindenburg and Ludendorff. Bundy and his aides were sent to Belfort, opposite a gap in the mountains beyond which lay Mulhouse and the Rhine with orders to prepare for a major offensive against the German lines. Belfort was full of spies and Pershing knew it.

General Bundy was not in on the secret and his business like preparation for a drive was complete in all detail. He expected 250,000 men to take part.

As these plans took shape, with virtually all the actors in the hoax ignorant of their true parts, the Germans became convinced that the impending St. Mihiel drive would not take place and that the Americans would strike from Belfort.

Then Col. A. L. Conger of the intelligence section of the A. E. F. who was Pershing's personal representative, baited a trap for a spy. Conger had noticed that his hotel was frequented by several persons who might be in the pay of the Germans. He wrote a letter to Pershing explaining that all was ready for the drive, and dropped the fresh piece of carbon paper used to make a copy in the waste basket. His words were impressed plainly on the carbon. Conger left his room for five minutes and when he returned the carbon was gone.

Three German divisions, Johnson said, were moved from St. Mihiel, where the Americans actually were planning to strike, to positions opposite Belfort. They numbered 36,000 men.

"Then on Sept. 12," said Johnson, "the American people were electrified by the first terse United Press dispatch sent by F. S. Ferguson, announcing that the real attack in the St. Mihiel salient had commenced. It was completely successful. The German reserves there were too weak for a counter attack. The ruse had worked."

The second ruse performed similar service before the Meuse-Argonne advance. Conger repeated the reconnoitering of a sector of quiet trenches and so utilized a detachment of 25 tanks in such a manner that German scouting planes believed tremendous numbers were being brought up at night.

The master stroke involved the use of wireless. General Drum and Col. Parker Hitt, using an obsolete American code known to be in the possession of the Germans, kept the air full of messages of an advancing "tenth army," which never did exist. The Germans concentrated troops to meet the tenth army drive and the Americans struck elsewhere.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

TAKE THE "CONCRETE"

Up where the lakes are many. That's where the fish are plenty. Up to the City that is bounded by lakes. Where nimrod or sportsman can follow their trails. That's where the "Concrete" ends.

Up where the sun shines brighter. And where the skies are lighter. Up where the "pine trees" scent the breeze. The air is pure, it kills disease. That's where the "Concrete" ends.

Up where the roads are better. And where the lakes are wetter. Up where the birds warble sweet melodies. You'll find there's honey and plenty of bees. That's where the "Concrete" ends.

Up where the nights are quieter. And where the stars are brighter. Up where the moon plays "peek-a-boo." Up where Nature can smile on you. That's where the "Concrete" ends.

Up where the girls are fairer. And where the men are squarer. Up where one can enjoy good health. Whether you're poor or endowed with wealth. That's where the "Concrete" ends.

Up where the trees are greener. And where the streets are cleaner. Up to the city where your "welcome" waits. "Brainerd" the heart of the "Ten Thousand Lakes."

That's where the "Concrete" ends.
